Evangelische Hochschule Nürnberg (EVHN) – Lutheran University of Applied Sciences – has study programs in the social sciences, social and health economics, health and care, as well as child development, education, and theology. Our university’s educational approach is centered on the Christian concept of man. In addition to the sound academic foundations of our instruction, research, professional and continuing education programs, we also offer lectures in the areas of spirituality, personality-building, and general education. In addition to their academic coursework and final qualification, students are encouraged to reflect on their own person and ethical questions in their career and in society and to take responsibility for their personal actions in those contexts.

The manageable size of the university, with 1,500 students and small study groups, allows for a personal cooperation between lecturers and students. As a state-approved university of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bavaria, the EVHN is part of a network of reputable institutions in education and in practice both in Germany and abroad. All are welcome to study at our university, irrespective of ideology or religious background.

The Evangelische Hochschule Nürnberg (EVHN) / Lutheran University of Applied Sciences – has study programs in the social sciences, social and health economics, health and care, as well as child development, education, and theology. Our university’s educational approach is centered on the Christian concept of man. In addition to the sound academic foundations of our instruction, research, professional and continuing education programs, we also offer lectures in the areas of spirituality, personality-building, and general education. In addition to their academic coursework and final qualification, students are encouraged to reflect on their own person and ethical questions in their career and in society and to take responsibility for their personal actions in those contexts.

The manageable size of the university, with 1,500 students and small study groups, allows for a personal cooperation between lecturers and students. As a state-approved university of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bavaria, the EVHN is part of a network of reputable institutions in education and in practice both in Germany and abroad. All are welcome to study at our university, irrespective of ideology or religious background.

Study in Germany Lutheran University of Applied Sciences

The Evangelische Hochschule Nürnberg (EVHN) / Lutheran University of Applied Sciences – has study programs in the social sciences, social and health economics, health and care, as well as child development, education, and theology. Our university’s educational approach is centered on the Christian concept of man. In addition to the sound academic foundations of our instruction, research, professional and continuing education programs, we also offer lectures in the areas of spirituality, personality-building, and general education. In addition to their academic coursework and final qualification, students are encouraged to reflect on their own person and ethical questions in their career and in society and to take responsibility for their personal actions in those contexts.

The manageable size of the university, with 1,500 students and small study groups, allows for a personal cooperation between lecturers and students. As a state-approved university of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Bavaria, the EVHN is part of a network of reputable institutions in education and in practice both in Germany and abroad. All are welcome to study at our university, irrespective of ideology or religious background.

Welcome

Undergraduate

- Applied Sciences in Nursing and Health, B.Sc. (part-time program, for professionals)¹
- Child Development, Education, and Health (Dual Study Program), B.A.²
- Diakonik (Christian Social Work), B.A.³
- Health and Care Education, B.A.¹
- Health and Care Management, B.A.¹
- Nursing Care (Dual Study Program), B.Sc.²
- Religious Education and Christian Adult Education, B.Ed.
- Social Business Administration, B.A.
- Social Work, B.A.
- Special Needs Education, B.A.

Graduate

- Advanced Nursing Practice, M.Sc. (planned)
- Applied Educational Sciences, M.A.
- Economics in Social and Health Services, M.A.
- Social Management, M.S.M.

Program Start

All bachelor study programs and the master program in Social Management begin in the winter semester (1 October) each year; the master programs in Applied Educational Sciences and Economics in Social and Health Services begin in the summer semester (15 March) each year.

Specific information on the different course requirements and career information for each study program is available in the program brochures (in German) at the following address: www.evhn.de/studieninteressierte. You will also find detailed information about admission requirements, how to apply, and deadlines.

¹ Admission requirement: university entrance qualification, completed vocational training in the field of nursing care, health, pediatrics nursing, or elderly care
² Admission requirement: university entrance qualification, apprenticeship at a cooperating Berufsfachschule/Fachakademie
³ Admission requirement: university entrance qualification, enrolled at the Diakonenschule Rummelsberg
CAREER SERVICE
All Bavarian universities and universities of applied sciences are committed to the Bavarian Model of Joint Doctoral Programs (Verbundpromotion) by the BayWiss (Bayerisches Wissenschaftsforum) cooperation agreement. Therefore, doctoral studies at the EVHN are possible in cooperation with a doctoral-degree-granting university within the framework of two joint programs in the subjects "Social Change" and "Health and Care".

CONTINUING EDUCATION – LIFELONG LEARNING
We want you to remain determined. The EVHN’s Institute for Further and Continuing Education, Innovation and Transfer (IFIT) designs and offers courses, seminars, and lecture series for professional development or continuing education in the fields of Adult Education, Health and Care, Social Affairs, Ethical Reflection, Key Skills, Management, and Business Administration. Our programs will support you in your effort to improve your subject-related and personal competencies and to meet the growing and continually changing professional challenges facing you in the workplace. IFIT’s programs are part-time, for professionals seeking continuing education at an academic level that addresses the current needs in professional practice and incorporates up-to-date academic insight.

INTERNATIONAL OFFICE
The International Office promotes student mobility and encourages study abroad. Intercultural learning and experience is gained by participating in practical and regular semesters abroad, special courses or language courses at universities abroad, writing a final thesis at an organization or company abroad, or by participating in a study tour.

"Incomers" – students from abroad, who are on our campus – are assisted by the International Office as well. The International Office also advises instructors on funding programs, international projects, and in building networks or networking with international contacts and establishing partners. The International Office also manages stipends and identifies and presents opportunities for grants and stipends.

EVHN students may take courses that are offered by the Language Center at the Technische Hochschule Nürnberg Georg Simon Ohm – which range across 16 languages in over 100 courses – at no charge.

LIBRARY
The library supports members of the university in curriculum, studies, and research with a broad range of materials. Training courses provide the competence required to effectively and efficiently use the electronic and printed media in our collection. The library rooms are available for users for independent work and study. As a public facility, the collection is also open to interested individuals in the region, who seek personal or professional development or simply new information.

RESEARCH
Institute for Innovative Addiction Treatment and Addiction Research
• Development and dissemination of programs to reduce consumption
• Development of addiction treatment approaches with patient directed goals: Theory, research and tools
• Implementation of innovative programs into practice
Institute for Nursing Research, Gerontology and Ethics
• Research, consulting, and development in the fields associated with nursing care and gerontology and their connections to ethical and anthropological perspectives
Institute for Research and Evaluation
• Research and evaluation projects
• Consulting on self-evaluations and quality development measures.
• Academic project supervision
Social Science Institute for Research and Transfer
• Research and project partner for organizations in social services
• Centres of excellence in Child Development and Education; Social Economy and Society; and Organization, Staff, and Management
Wichern Institute for Applied Research and Development in Christian Social Work (Diakonie)
• Affiliated institute of the Rummelsberger Diakonie at the Evangelische Hochschule Nürnberg
• Research and development projects in youth, elderly, and disabled care and welfare at the Rummelsberger Diakonie

Besides the research in our institutes, the professors on campus are also leading or are active in various roles in research projects. The fields of research are closely related to their fields of instruction and inform the curricula on campus significantly. Students are included in many projects in applied research.

ALUMNI - NETWORK
To all who have completed their studies at the EVHN: The Alumni-Netzwerk der Evangelischen Hochschule Nürnberg e.V. connects graduates of our programs. The association promotes the continuing relationship of former students, the EVHN, and its historical precursors by helping to re-establish and extend contact between alumni and their alma mater, and building the EVHN’s network.

YOU'RE INTERESTED IN STUDYING WITH US? HERE ARE SOME GOOD REASONS TO JOIN US

• online courses
• many partners in practice: for projects, internships, or research projects
• interesting contacts and partner universities abroad
• university with an evangelic profile and Christian educational concept
• graduates have very good employment prospects (10 percent of employees in Bavaria work in social services or health sector; that is approximately 60,000 people – and trending upward)
• campus is located in the vibrant neighbourhood, Gostenhof, very close to the historic city centre
• the city and surrounding region is home to extensive and attractive recreational activities
• relatively low cost-of-living
• supplemental student transit pass can be used 24-hours a day, the whole year, for the public transport system in the greater metropolitan region

INFORMATION ON STUDY IN GERMANY
Questions and topics related to professional orientation, career planning, and personal development are central to the Career Service. The Career Service is also the main contact on campus for network partners, organizations, and employers as relating to professional opportunities.

LIFELONG LEARNING
CONTINUING EDUCATION – DOCTORAL STUDIES
The International Office also advises instructors on funding programs, international projects, and in building networks or networking with international contacts and establishing partners. The International Office also manages stipends and identifies and presents opportunities for grants and stipends.

EVHN students may take courses that are offered by the Language Center at the Technische Hochschule Nürnberg Georg Simon Ohm – which range across 16 languages in over 100 courses – at no charge.